Messrs. Seabury & Johnson, Manufacturing Chemists, 21 Platt St., New York:
Gentlemen.—For the past few years we have sold various brands of Porous Plasters. Physicians and the Public prefer Benson's Capcine Porous Plaster to all others. We consider them one of the very few reliable household remedies worthy of confidence. They are superior to all other Porous Plasters or Liniments for external use.

Benson's Capcine Plaster is a genuine Pharmaceutical product, of the highest order of merit, and so recognized by physicians and druggists.

When other remedies fail get a Benson's Capcine Plaster.

For Sunday Schools.
THE BEACON LIGHT. Sunday School Song Book by J. H. TENNEY and E. A. HOFFMAN. Specimen copies mailed for 30 cents. Liberal reduction for quantities. DITSON & Co respectfully call attention to the marked improvement which is apparent in their newer publications for Sunday Schools. The best talent in the country has been employed in compiling them, and they have been received with marked favor. THE BEACON LIGHT is the work of two of the best hymn and tune composers in the country, is a carefully "winnowed" book, only the best 100 out of 500 manuscripts having been retained. We have not many Sunday School hymns better than

"Love of the Saviour, tender and precious,
Deeper and broader than ocean or sea,
Stronger than death, so pure and so gracious,
Oh, in thy fullness flow sweetly to me."
or
"He who conquers, wins a crown
When he lays his armor down,
For we bear the cross no more,
When we reach the golden shore."

Attention is also directed to WHITE ROBES (30 cts.) by Abbey and Munger, and to GOOD NEWS (35 cts.) by R. M. McIntosh. These excellent books are still in demand. Their authors have also new books in progress, which will soon be announced.
Any book mailed, post free, for retail price.

STATE NEWS.

Androscoggin

The Journal says: The upper drive of logs have got clear of Umbagog Lake, and are between the lake and Berlin. There are about eight millions in that drive. They expect to get here this season. Last year's drive left Livermore Falls, Monday, and logs are now running into the booms in this city quite freely. About two millions have already come in, and there are about four millions between here and Livermore Falls. On Monday, R. C. Pingree & Co.'s mill sawed 52,000 long lumber on orders altogether. Demand is lively.

Cumberland.

The Dominion Line left about $50,000, and the Beaver $40,000, the last season, it is reported, in Portland, for work done by laborers, supplies, etc.

The Press says that the will of Cyrus Libby, late of Scarboro, is being contested in the Probate Court, before Judge Peabody. Mr. Libby gave the most of his property to Mrs. Caroline Phillips, a niece with whom he was residing, and a small sum to his remaining relatives. One of the heirs, Randall Skillings, contests the will upon the ground of lack of capacity of the testator to make a will.

Kennebec.

The Maine Central railroad company are making some necessary repairs about the station at Winthrop. They are filling the vacant spaces on either side of the depot with earth, and sodding it over in an excellent manner. Within these spaces on either side are to be flower beds of beautiful design, raised sufficiently to make them appear doubly attractive and ornamental. The whole is to be surrounded with a fence to protect against man or beast. After it is completed it will be the most beautiful spot along the whole line of the Maine Central railroad.——Chas. Benjamin, son of J. M. Benjamin, who was recently burned while bathing in a saloon car, by another train backing against the car and knocking him upon the stove, is improving.——Mrs. Eliza P. Anderson, of Port Blakely, Washington Territory, is visiting at her son-in-law's, D. M. Teague's. Mrs. A. was several weeks in making the journey, in consequence of the terrible floods in the West.

Montana Lodge, A. O. of W. W., celebrated their first anniversary on Wednesday evening, May 4th. A goodly number of visiting brothers were present with their ladies. A procession headed by the Winthrop Band, marched through the principal streets and returned to Packard Hall, where a large audience had assembled. Here they were favored with music by the band, also with singing by Messrs. Metcalf and Woodman and by the Misses Kempton and Wing and Mrs. Torsey, with Miss Carrie Wing as accompanist, after which they repaired to Town Hall, where an excellent supper was served, which the ladies of Winthrop know how to prepare. They expected Rev. H. A. Shorey, of Brooks, to be present and deliver an address, but he was unavoidably absent. Montana Lodge numbers some fifty members, and they are prospering well. They have a nice hall neatly finished. There are only three lodges of the kind in the State.

Piscataquis.

The monthly payroll of Messrs. Mayo's factory, at Foxcroft, is $2,500, with a yearly amount paid out of $30,000. They have 68 operators besides the large amount of labor for both man and beast in hauling the wood which it takes to run their factory. Over 400 cords are required, which adds some $1,300 more which is distributed among the farmers. The wool and shoddy matter comes from the Boston markets. The goods made from them are repellents; they bear the highest reputation in the New York market. The present price for wool is 25c for unwashed and 33c for washed—quite a decline in prices. Messrs. Dyer & Hughes at their organ factory employ 45 men and a monthly payroll of $1,400. They consume 200 cords of wood besides the waste. It takes 250,000 boards to make the boxes to ship their organs, it takes a car of black walnut a week that costs $700, which costs annually $36,400; they use 250 gross of screws per month or 3,000 gross a year.C. H. Dwelly & Co.'s spool factory employ 35 hands with a monthly payroll of $800. It takes 2 000 cords of white birch which cost $12,000; all paid out to the laboring men of the country. Now the three establishments pay out monthly $47,000, beside the winter months will add some $16,000.

The Union says that logs were running lively on Machias river Tuesday last. It was estimated that three millions passed over Great Falls and most of them into the Whitneyville boom before night. The prospect is fair now that stock enough will come to the booms to operate the saws until the drouth of summer.

The Union says that Charles E., son of Wm. Pearl, of No. 14, died April 18th, at Clear Lake, Minn., aged 36. With his family he removed there a few years ago. Two of their children died before they left Maine, one died in Minnesota and Mrs. Pearl died at Clear Water, October last. Both parents and their three children have departed.

LIFE'S BRIGHTEST HOUR. Not long since I met a gentleman who is assessed for one million. Silver was in his hair, care upon his brow, and he slightly stooped beneath his burden of wealth. We were speaking of the period of life when he had realized the most perfect enjoyment, or, rather, when he had found the happiness to be unalloyed. "I'll tell you," said the millionaire, "when was the happiest hour of my life. At the age of one and twenty I had saved up $800. I was earning $500 a year, and my father did not take it from me, only requiring that I should pay for my board. At the age of twenty-two I had secured a pretty cottage, just outside of the city. I was able to pay two-thirds of the value down, and also to furnish it respectably. I was married on Sunday—a Sunday in June—at my father's house. My wife had come to me poor in purse but rich in the wealth of her womanhood. The Sabbath and the Sabbath night we passed beneath my father's roof, and on Monday morning I went to my work, leaving mother and sister to help in preparing my home. On Monday evening, when the labors of the day were done, I went not to the paternal shelter, but to my house—my own home. The holy atmosphere of that hour seems to surround me even now in the memory. I opened the door of my cottage and entered. I laid my hat on the little stand in the hall and passed on to the kitchen—our kitchen and dining room were all one then. I pushed open the kitchen door and was in heaven! The table was set against the wall—the evening meal was ready, prepared by the hands of her who had come to be my helpmeet in deed as well as name—and by the table with a throbbing, expectant look upon her lovely and loving face, stood my wife. I could only clasp the waiting angel to my bosom, thus showing to her the ecstatic burden of my heart. The years have passed—long years—and worldly wealth has flowed in upon me, and I am honored and envied; but—as true as heaven—I would give it all—every dollar, for the joy of the hour of that June evening, in the long, long ago."—Exchange.

A LITTLE GOOD ADVICE. Advice is cheap, but sometimes beneficial. In fact, there is too much circulated while too little practiced; but, nevertheless, the following from an exchange is worthy of notice:

Speak well of worthy public enterprises.

Sell your building lots at reasonable prices.

Induce business men to locate in your town.

Patronize the business places of your own town.

Speak well to strangers of your town and people.

Always sum up your expenses when you visit places outside of your own town to buy goods.

If you can afford to do so, donate a large building lot for some large business enterprise, and thereby enhance the value of the town.

If anything should be undertaken that may be of benefit to the town, do not speak ill of it to others because you happen to be prejudiced against it.

SWALLOWING CHERRY PITS.

[From the N. Y. Tribune.]

There was once a little boy who frightened his grandmother by saying, "There, grandma, I've eaten all the cherries you gave me, and now if you don't give me a sixpence I'll swallow every one of the pits." And the old lady in great trepidation immediately gave him the sixpence. The veracious historian does not inform us whether the cherry-eater was assisted in intimidating his grandmother by a gang of vociferous urchins who stood around howling, "Give him the sixpence or he'll kill himself with the cherry pits," and afterward divided with him the proceeds of the enterprise; but undoubtedly he was. That kind of a boy is very apt to have cronies who are eager to forward his schemes and divide the profits. For the benefit, however, of the senior Senator from New York, who is just now threatening to make way with himself if he cannot have all he wants, and of the noble band of devoted adherents who are wildly beating the air and calling upon the Administration to let him have his own way lest he swallows the cherry-pits and fly away to be an angel on the wings of perityphlitis—we beg to remark that this was an exceptionally indulgent and timid grandmother, and that there is no record of the same boy's playing the cherry-pits on her the second time. No boy can do that sort of thing habitually unless his grandmother is in her dotage. The Republican party is always indulgent and sometimes timid, but not yet in its dotage.

By grace of the Republican party, Senator Conkling has for twenty years held very high and important public positions, and a large part of the time has wielded enormous power. For eight years he had absolute control of a larger amount of patronage than any other half dozen Senators, while his influence at the White House was such that its occupant deferred to his lightest wish, ordering the formalities of official intercourse so as to conform to his prejudices and adapting his social relations to his whims. Threatened with a diminution of this absolute power in 1876, he for a long time held himself in suspense between the two parties, while his opponents openly gloried in his impending apostacy. But he swallowed no cherry pits though he got no sixpence, and his indulgent grandmother gave him more cherries in the shape of a re-election in 1878. Toward an Administration which rescued the Republican party from the pit of disaster into which his favorites and his policy had plunged it, and which did more in four years to command the gratitude of the party than he in twenty, he maintained an attitude of contemptuous hostility and the character of its most bitter personal and political foe. Defeated in the attempt to regain his former dictatorship by putting upon the party the candidate of his and not their choice, he fell again into sullenness and for a time refused to be conciliated, even by the selection of his nearest friend for second place. There was more talk of cherry pits, but he presently abandoned the idea of suicide and concluded to help save the party upon which his own political life depends.

And now we have him again, as of old, demanding the whole and threatening mischief to the party if he is not humored. Unless he is allowed to have his own way in everything he will make a split in the party. And then what? "Why, then," cry all the little fellows who are his district messenger boys, "we shall lose New York and lose the Presidency in 1884." Oh, we shall, eh? Well, what will Mr. Conkling lose? He comes up for re-election in 1884. Do we understand that because he can't have everything now he is going to spite his grandmother by swallowing cherry pits and fading away with political collie in 1884? Hadn't he better think twice about it—as heretofore? A disconsolate grandmother may survive her grief, but the boy that climbs the golden stair with a stomach full of cherry pits never comes back. We are told that Mr. Conkling is a very great man, and that the Republican party cannot afford to offend him. He is a very great man, it is true. He has a deliberate manner and a most affluent vocabulary. No man can poise longer on a dissyllable to select from the whole tongue the polysyllable most potent to convey his lofty and ineffable disdain; nor did any man ever have such power to hoist his adversary upon the two monosyllables "that man," and fling him with a sniff into the abysmal depths of his absolute contempt. Cicero, with his "iste homo," was nowhere in the comparison. Yes, he is great. Everybody admits it. But the present question, as we apprehend it, is not so much whether the Republican can afford to stand by and let him fool with his interior, as it is whether on the whole he is for his own part sincerely ambitious to bring himself down with the colic.

VAIN EFFORTS TO BULLDOZE.

[From the Chicago Tribune.]

Mr. Conkling has been trying two months to bulldoze the President. There isn't a trick known in the art of sneaking which has not been resorted to in the effort to induce the President to withdraw a nomination against which not one word has been uttered on the merits, and which received the unanimous indorsement of both houses of the New York Legislature. There is no form of threat which has not been used to the same end. He demanded everything and—lost everything. If his adherents in the Senate want harmony in the Republican party now is the time to prove it; not by insisting that the President shall surrender a great prerogative of his office, but by refusing longer to follow a dictator whose watchword is rule or ruin.

WHAT EVERYBODY IS SAYING.

[From the Concord Monitor (Rep.)]

The situation at Washington remains unchanged, and the specials from that city give nothing of interest concerning the struggle over Mr. Robertson's nomination. The people at large have formed their opinion upon the contest, and that the overwhelming sentiment of press and people in the country is that President Garfield is entitled to fair play at the hands of his friends, and shall have it.

THE RIGHT ON GARFIELD'S SIDE.

[From the Albany Evening Journal (Rep.)]

If what the President has done shall force the "war" begun weeks ago by his enemies, he may be sure that the people will stand by him against all comers, not alone because he is President, but because he is right.

THE ROBERTSON CASE.

President Garfield Firm,

And Will neither Compromise or Surrender.

Judge Robertson's Confirmation Predicted Within Ten Days.

[Wash. Cor. Boston Journal, May 11.]

There is no change in the political situation. Feudalism died hard. The Senatorial barons insist upon what they call their constitutional prerogative. "Senatorial courtesy" is to them a Magna Charta. The doctrine of "Senatorial courtesy" finds such strenuous supporters in the Senate that it is very clear that while was the last year of the Garfield Administration, instead of the first, and if the patronage was behind the Senators, instead of before them, Mr. Conkling would carry his point by a large majority. But that is not the situation, and, as a consequence, the Administration will win. Mr. Robertson will be confirmed within ten days, and there will not be more than ten Republican votes cast against him. When the caucus adjourned last night nearly every Senator seemed under the control of some mysterious influence. Some of the most earnest supporters of the Administration talked of compromise, and spoke of harmony as necessary for party safety. Their suggestions of harmony meant either a total surrender on the part of the Executive or ignoble trade and dicker in patronage. The majority of Republican Senators seemed to think that the final days of the party had arrived unless it could be made certain that Judge Robertson should not be made Collector of the Port of New York. If there was anybody who thought that the Republican party ought not to live if its vitality depends upon the fact that a certain man shall or shall not have control of a certain custom house, that man was not bold enough to assert himself.

THE PRESIDENT FIRM.

To-day numerous attempts have been made to see the President by the Republican Senators acting individually as members of a voluntary committee of the whole on the pacification of the party. These attempts, for the most part, have been unsuccessful. President Garfield sat by the side of his very ill wife all of last night, watching her pulse and making medical examinations every hour for the use of the physicians, her nervous condition being such that but one or two persons besides the President could enter the room without causing her great and possibly fatal excitement. Accordingly, this morning the President found it necessary to devote to sleep the hours which otherwise might have been given to the Senators who would have urged upon him to surrender or to evade the issue by shifting the patronage. Personal friends, who have seen Gen. Garfield late this evening, however, say that the matter can only be adjusted in one or two ways: either by the defeat or confirmation of Robertson to the place for which he has been nominated. The President, while as desirous for harmony as anybody, does not see that any course is left for him except to surrender to the dictation of Mr. Conkling or to permit the nomination of Mr. Robertson to take its course, and to abide by the formal declaration of the advice and consent of the Senate. The President is not weak enough to surrender.

THE PEACE-AT-ANY-PRICE PARTY.

The Senators who saw him spoke words of peace. They urged upon him the necessity of harmony, said that the Presidential office was one of tremendous power, and that Gen. Garfield could now afford to do the heroic thing; that he could say that he had made a mistake in nominating Robertson without consultation with Conkling, but that seeing that fact he was brave and strong enough to acknowledge it. A friend of the President suggested to one of these surrender-seeking Senators that harmony perhaps could be restored if Mr. Conkling would go to the White House say that he felt aggrieved; that he thought that an injustice had been done, but that he desired to be at peace, and to co-operate with the Administration, and as a proof of it he tendered his hand. "But," interposed this surrender-seeking Senator, "Mr. Conkling will not do that."

"Then," replied the President's friend, "there is to be no harmony according to your programme unless the Administration shall do something that is pleasing to one man, and that man has no advances of his own to make." Yet the influence of Mr. Conkling, or these magic words, "Senatorial courtesy," have power enough to send a score of Senators to the White House on such a mission as that. The plan will not succeed. Mr. Robertson will not be withdrawn. He will be confirmed Collector of the port of New York. The Administration is not disposed to take so prominent a part in the forthcoming Senatorial election in New Hampshire as to send Mr. Chandler as a carpet-bagger from New Hampshire to take charge of the New York Custom House.

A FINAL ADJOURNMENT NEXT WEEK PROBABLE.

It is said that the next move of the Conkling people, in the event that the President declines any compromise, and that the majority of the Republicans decide to proceed with the consideration of the Robertson case, will be to make a combination with the Democrats and force a final adjournment of the Senate by Wednesday of next week, without acting upon Robertson. In any event it is the purpose of all Republicans to secure a final adjournment of the session by the last of next week. There is no purpose to renew the fight over the election of officers.

OUR SHIPPING INTERESTS.

The following letter from Secretary Blaine relative to the removal of local taxation from vessels engaged in foreign trade, will be of interest to our readers:

WASHINGTON, May 2, 1881.

Hon. William Russell, M. C., Lawrence, Mass.:

DEAR SIR—The removal of local taxation from vessels engaged in the foreign trade would be an immense help in the effort to revive American commerce. Since our conversation in regard to a bill to that effect now pending before the Massachusetts Legislature I have felt impelled to write you a word in the hope that I may quicken your zeal in urging its passage. If ships in the foreign trade of the United States can be taxed as in other countries, upon their incomes and not upon their cost, I think a great step would be taken in the right direction. No person paying taxes on other property need complain of an unfair discrimination, because if we can encourage shipbuilding in this way we will secure an income tax, whereas if we do not quickly do something to develop our navigation interest we shall be utterly driven from the sea by our wiser and more far-sighted rivals. In other words, it would be better to have the navigation property made prosperous under a wise system of taxation than to have it entirely disappear under an unwise system. There need be no jealousy on the part of the coasting trade, because that is confined to American vessels, and those engaged in it are all sailing under the same conditions and have only to encounter a fair and honorable competition among themselves. But American ships in the foreign trade do not sail under the same conditions with ships of European countries. We place burdens and costs and taxes upon our vesse s from which the vessels of foreign countries are exempt. In short, we load them down with exactions and oppressions and then rub our eyes and wonder that Amer can ships do not hold their own in the international contest for the trade of the world. There is not a manufacturing interest in New England, or any other part of the United States, that would not be swept out of existence if subjected to the same conditions that for years have oppressed American shipping. I believe the government of the United States will speedily remove every tax restriction and discrimination which by its authority stands in the way of American commerce. To that end I shall assiduously labor. But the movement in Massachusetts is more important than any step hitherto taken for our sh pbuilding and commercial interests. I sincerely trust it will succeed. The example would be followed in other Commonwealths and we should soon have a race between the commercial States as to which could do the most in the way of lightening the burdens upon our navigation interests. When that form of rivalry becomes active the day for our commercial supremacy will have dawned.

Very sincerely yours,
JAMES G. BLAINE.

WHAT THE PRESS THINKS.

The President was right in withdrawing these Conkling nominations. It was a bold and brilliant coup d'etat, which turns the tables beautifully on his haughty and domineering adversary.—St. Paul Pioneer Press (Rep.).

This whole matter resolvers itself into a fight between the Bosses and the people, and as long as the President acts with the people, he cannot suffer a great loss of dignity.—Pittsburg Despatch (Rep.)

The preposterous charge is made by the Conkling journals that the President is waging a personal war on the Primate. No such charge was heard while the President was appointing eleven of Conkling's friends to office. But when one anti-Conkling man was appointed the Pr mate took his position in front of the locomotive, and announced that he should consider it a personal attack if he were run into. Possibly the bull in the same position had a similar notion, but it didn't do him any good or prevent the spectators laughing at him.—Tribune.

PERSONAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

Mr. Henry James, Jr., intends to return to this country shortly.

Sir Walter Scott's castle, Abbotsford, is to be let furnished by the year or for the season.

Benjamin F. Clarke, Professor of Mathematics at Brown University, will spend next year in European travel.

The Crown Prince of Sweden is acting as Regent of the Kingdom during the absence in England of his father and mother.

The brooch lost by Baroness Burdett-Coutts at the Queen's "drawing-room" on Tuesday last has been found at Buckingham Palace.

Mme. Eudoxie Sodoff, who is living with her mother at Charkoff, in Russia, has sued for a separation from her husband, Prince Louis Napoleon Murat.

Messrs. Moody and Sankey propose visiting England in September. They will spend October in Glasgow, and afterwards open a revival campaign in Ireland.

President Garfield will probably attend the commencement exercises at Williams College on June 26. He will be Senator Hoar's guest in Worcester during the last week in June.

Jay Gould sent his check to Tom Scott the other day for $2,400,000 in a letter. Had this sum been paid in lawful silver coin it would have required six freight cars to transport it.

One tragic phase of the recent execution in Russia lay in the fact tha: the Judge who pronounced the death sentence upon Sophie Pierofska was a companion of her childhood, and once a suitor for her hand.

The estimated cut of logs for the Minneapolis mills this season is 275,000,000 feet, which, with 60,000,000 feet left over from last year, makes a total of 335,000,000 feet, upon which it is expected the sixteen lumber mills at Minneapolis will draw for 273,000,000 during the present season. The price of logs in the water is $1 a thousand feet over that of last year, and the lumber business of the city is said to be in the brightest condition of its history.

Mr. Halstead says the President is well, "no longer troubled with insomnia or indigestion, and is about as fine a figure of a man as one would care to see. He is erect, clear-eyed, alert, well-dressed and feels comfortably at home. The Secretary of State is also in good condition, and though his hair is white and his face pale, his eye is as brilliant, his hand as steady and his step as firm as when he was Mr. Speaker. The manager of the elevator in the State Department cannot be sure that Mr. Blaine has come in for he is liable to go up the steps."

Among the presents of historic interest that were to be offered to the Crown Prince Rudolph on the occasion of his marriage with the Princess Stephanie, is a walking stick presented by the monks of Hebron at Jerusalem. It is from the wood of a venerable oak which stands close to the ruins of the Patriarch Abraham's dwelling, and under which, according to the tradition and belief of the monks, he was seated when the three angels appeared to him as recited in the Scriptures. The tree measures twenty-two feet in circumference and has branches from forty to fifty feet long.

A farewell dinner in honor of Mr. D. R. Locke (Petroleum V. Nasby), who is about to subject the art and institutions of Europe to the original tests of the Cross Roads criticisms, was Tuesday evening an occasion of much enjoyment to a party of about twenty gentlemen who met at the Parker House, Boston, as the guests of Mr. C. A. B. Shepard. There was no formality about the affair, and among those who participated in the sparkling after-dinner talk were the host and guest of the evening, Messrs. J. T. Trowbridge, Curtis Guild, William T. Adams, J. W. Ryan, Alexander Young, S. G. Fitch, F. H. Underwood, George M. Towle, E. W. French, Samuel T. Cobb, George M. Baker and Charles H. Taylor.

The fatal cases of zymotic diseases which have swelled New York's mortality record to such large proportions this spring have been by no means confined to the slums and tenement house districts of the city. The New York Herald publishes a chart showing that between April 9 and 28 there were 648 deaths from zymotic diseases in the city, of which a large portion were located on Murray Hill, Fifth avenue and the streets running from it in the fashionable residence quarter, and in other aristocratic parts of the city. Of course, Five Points and its vicinity shows the greatest prevalence of zymotic diseases, but they are also scattered over all sections. New York is evidently preparing itself for an epidemic of serious proportions this summer.

Excessive efficiency in a police force is often as uncomfortable as a lack of this quality, as a woman in Greenock, England, recently found out. She acutiously entered the Police Court to look after her husband, when she was promptly pounced upon by a policeman and placed at the bar, where two constables swore information against her as a certain Mrs. Maguire, who had committed a breach of the peace. Before she had recovered from her astonishment she was convicted and fined, with the alternative of imprisonment. Sentence being passed, she regained her self-possession on being led out, and easily convinced the officials of their mistake. She was thereupon released, and the real Mrs. Maguire being found, the latter was placed at the bar, and justice took its course without interruption.

MERRILL THE MATRICIDE.

Guilty of Murder in the First Degree.

He Will be Sentenced To-Day.

AUGUSTA, May 12. The Merrill trial closed this afternoon. The prisoner was put upon the stand this forenoon and made a credible appearance, but nothing could shake the overwhelming evidence of his guilt.

The arguments by the counsel were unusually able and at twenty minutes of six the case was given to the jury. They retired and in six minutes brought in a verdict of "Guilty of murder in the first degree."

Judge Whitehouse will pronounce the sentence to-morrow.

Drowning Accidents.

LEWISTON, May 12. Two French workmen from Lewiston, Octave Pamarlo and Levaseur, were drowned at Canton by the upsetting of a boat, on Wednesday.

HOULTON, May 12. Amos Inghram, of Ludlow, was drowned to-day while sluicing logs at Cary's Mills, Houlton. He was forty-five years old and leaves a family.

COLUMBIA FALLS, May 12. Edward, only son of Ashiel M. Worcester, of Columbia, was drowned at Saco Falls this forenoon.

Too Much Confidence.

PORTLAND, May 12. Orlando L. Crowley, of Machias, was cheated out of $40 by a confidence man, who left him holding a box which proved to be filled with newspapers and a bogus mine certificate for one thousand dollars.

Schooner Launched.

The new schooner Andrew J. York was launched from the yard of George Russell, at East Deering to-day. Her managing owner is H. M. Sargent. Her dimensions are 114 feet long, 30 wide and 9 deep.

Destroyed by Fire.

BOOTHBAY, May 12. The house, barn and nearly all the contents belonging to James F. Giles, were destroyed by fire to-night. Loss $1200; insured. The family had a narrow escape.

The Steamer Katahdin Collides with a Schooner in Boston.

BOSTON, May 12. The steamer Katahdin, of the Bangor line, while going out of the harbor this evening collided with the schooner Charles Steadman, of Gloucester, Capt. William H. Poland. The schooner was considerably damaged in the after part of the rigging, the main boom being carried away and Capt. Poland seriously injured internally by being struck by a portion of the boom. The Katahdin is uninjured.

FORTY-SEVENTH CONGRESS.

Special Session of the Senate.

WASHINGTON, May 12.

Mr. Kellogg called up his resolution calling upon the heads of departments for information relative to clerks and employes in their respective departments, etc.

Mr. Sherman opposed the resolution. Under existing law there was a register made up of all officers and employes of the Government which was itself a very expensive document. It contained all the information called for by the present resolution, with the exception of the information relative to the person or persons on whose recommendation the appointments were made; that information would only give a handle to enable persons seeking office to get out men who were valuable from their long public service.

Mr. Bayard agreed with Mr. Sherman in opposing the resolution and moved that it be referred to the Committee on Printing.

Mr. Brown contended that the object sought by the resolution was proper, but thought it could be better attained by the resolution offered yesterday by the Senator from Iowa (Mr. McDill.)

Mr. Kellogg argued that the information asked by the resolution was not contained in the "Blue Book." He hoped that the resolution would be referred to the Committee on Printing, and the whole question be taken into consideration.

Mr. Morrill considered this matter as one of minor importance. What was of importance was that the Government should have efficient servants.

The resolution was referred to the Committee on Printing.

Mr. McDill called up the resolution offered by him yesterday directing that hereafter there shall be contained in the official register of the United States, information as to the Congressional district from which each government employe is appointed.

Mr. Brown offered an amendment asking for further information as to whether such employes are white or colored. Race differences should not make any difference.

The resolution and amendment were referred to the Committee on Printing.

Mr. Hoar offered a resolution directing that the Committee on Elections inquire and report at the next session of Congress what measures were needful to secure the ascertainment and declaration of the result of the election of President and Vice President. Adopted.

The Senate at 1 o'clock went into Executive session.

The entire Executive session of the Senate was devoted to a further consideration of the nomination of Stanley Matthews, as Associate Justice of the Supreme Court. The principal speakers to-day were Messrs. Edmunds, David Davis, Logan and McMillan in opposition; Sherman, Pendleton and Beck in advocacy of the confirmation. The debate was similar to that of yesterday, the speeches being to a large extent, elaborate amplifications of the arguments then advanced by the respective friends and opponents of the nomination. It was argued by Mr. Edmunds that Mr. Matthews' oration at the unveiling of the Thomas' statue, which had previously been criticised, as favoring a centralization of power in the Federal Government, was in fact amenable to severe criticism, as an enumeration of the States rights heresies.

At the end of the discussion a vote was taken on the question of confirmation, which resulted: yeas 22, nays 21, so the nomination was confirmed. Affirmative and negative totals were equally divided between the two parties.

The doors reopened at 5.55 and the Senate adjourned.

Persecuting the Jews.

SEVERAL SERIOUS RIOTS.

Eighteen Hundred Persons Arrested.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 12. To-day's papers are full of accounts of anti-Jewish riots in the south and southwest. There was two day's rioting at Berezowka, in the government of Cherzon. Shops were pillaged and three Jewish houses burned. There was a serious encounter between the peasants and village authorities, at Victorowk, in the government of Odessa, owing to the authorities trying to recover the stolen property. Troops were despatched there from Odessa. At Kieff, troops are now stationed in the streets. One person was killed and eighteen wounded. There have been 1400 arrests. The Municipal Council is deliberating with closed doors on measures to prevent further disturbances. The chief ringleaders were strangers who came from the north.

There are accounts of rioting from many other places. Four hundred persons have been arrested at Balta, where proclamations have been issued inciting Christian inhabitants against the Jews.

VIENNA, May 12. The Presse says a merchant of Lemberg received a telegram from Kieff to-day, stating that the whole Jewish quarter known as Podol has been burned. The damage is estimated at thirty million roubels. Crowds of refugee Jews are crossing the Austrian frontier at Podauloczyska.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 12. The mobs in the south of Russia are attacking the students as well as the Jews.

WASHINGTON.

Temperance Petition.

WASHINGTON, May 12. A deputation from the National Temperance Society called on President Garfield to-day, and presented an appeal to the President to so define the order of ex-President Hayes, forbidding the sale of liquors at army forts and posts, as to have it include fermented as well as distilled liquors. The deputation presented a petition from thirty States and Territories, representing some 300,000 members of churches and temperance societies.

FINANCIAL.

Payment of the Five Per Cent. Bonds.

WASHINGTON, May 12. The Secretary of the Treasury officially announces that the principal and accrued interest of the 5 per cent. coupon bonds, issued under the acts of July 14, '70, and January 20, '71, now outstanding, will be paid at the Treasury on the 12th of August, '81, when the interest on said bonds will cease, and none of these bonds will hereafter be exchanged for registered bonds bearing 5 per cent. interest. It is provided, however, that in case any of the holders of the said coupon bonds shall request to have their bonds continued during the pleasure of the Government, with interest at 3½ per cent. per annum, in lieu of payment at the date above specified, such request will be granted, if the bonds are received by the Secretary of the Treasury for that purpose on or before the first of July, '81. The Secretary will also receive, under similar conditions, any of the uncalled 5 per cent. registered bonds of the acts of July 14, '70, and January 20, '71, to an amount not exceeding $250,000,000, the remainder of the loan being reserved with a view of its payment from the surplus revenues.

Six Per Cent. Bonds Received for Continuance.

Up to the close of business to-day there had been received and counted at the Loan Division of the Treasury $143,081,950 of 6 per cent. bonds for continuance at 3½ per cent. There are about $17,000,000 more of these bonds now in the Treasurer's office, which have not been acted upon and which will swell the aggregate amount received for continuance to over $160,000,000, leaving but about $36,000,000 yet to be heard from. No returns yet received from the London Agency.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Fatally Burned by the Explosion of a Lamp.

FALL RIVER, May 12. By the explosion of a kerosene lamp this morning Mr. James Melvin and his wife Mary were burned, the former quite badly. It is thought that his wounds are not serious, however. His two-years old child, sitting on his knee, was fatally burned.

The Small Pox Scourge at Adams.

NORTH ADAMS, May 12. Two more small-pox fatalities occurred at the pest house in South Adams last night, making ten since the breaking out of the scourge. Six persons were last night taken to the refuge house at North Adams to remain until it is proved whether or not they are coming down with the disease.

SPRINGFIELD, May 12. The six-years old son of Jerry Shea, at Chicopee, was instantly killed this afternoon by a cake of ice falling upon him from an ice wagon.

A $40,000 Blaze.

BOSTON, May 12. Fire this afternoon in a building owned by the heirs of S. P. Langmaid, in Hay-market block, destroyed property amounting to $40,000. The principal losers are W. H. Varrell, doors and blinds; John Mulligan, paint and oil; Holmes & Blanchard, mill machinery; E. B. Franklin, steam heaters; and Goodnow & Wightman, hardware. Nearly all insured.

MARQUIS OF LORNE

Determined to Retire From the Governor-Generalship.

ST. PAUL, May 12. It has been ascertained definitely from an authentic and reliable source that Marquis of Lorne communicated to the members of the Canadian Government his determination to retire from the Governor-Generalship, after his Manitoba journey. The Marquis does not find his relations with the Gladstone Ministry altogether harmonious.

IOWA.

A Strange Disease Among Cattle.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, May 12. A singular and fatal disease among cattle has been raging in the surrounding country for several days. It seems very contagious and is pronounced a kind of blood poisoning. After the first symptoms show themselves the animals last only five or six hours, and a number of the finest cows in this city have died. A general refraining from the use of meat and milk has resulted, and the disorder at present assumes a somewat serious aspect.

INTENSE HEAT.

Ninety in the Shade at New York.

Soldiers Prostrated During Field Exercise.

NEW YORK, May 12. The heat in the city to-day was intense and the mercury reached 90 in the shade. During the Field Day exercises in the afternoon of the First Brigade, in Brooklyn, the intense heat told heavily on the soldiers. After parading and going through the military evolutions for some hours, the soldiers began falling upon the ground. General consternation prevailed in the ranks and a parade was abandoned. Everything possible was done for those prostrated by the heat and the regiment started for home. With the exception of two men sent to the hospital all the sufferers were able to be removed to their homes.

Fourteen sunstrokes in this city and Brooklyn during the day—one fatal.

GRATEFUL WOMEN.
None receive so much benefit, and none are so profoundly grateful and show such an interest in recommending Hop Bitters as women. It is the only remedy peculiarly adapted to the many ills the sex is almost universally subject to. Chills and fever, indigestion or deranged liver, constant or periodical sick headaches, weakness in the back or kidneys, pain in the shoulders and different parts of the body, a feeling of lassitude and despondency, are all readily removed by these Bitters.—Courant.

BLACK BEAR KILLED NEAR MILFORD. Yesterday morning some men in the employ of the Milford Land and Lumber Company killed an immense black bear, near one of the logging camps, about six miles from the village of Milford. The animal weighed nearly five hundred pounds. The skin, which was an unusually fine one, was purchased by a gentleman in that village.

FIRE AT LINCOLN CENTRE. Fire was discovered in the barn of James O. Davis, Lincoln Centre, at about 11 o'clock Wednesday evening, which soon spread to the house, and both were entirely consumed. The household goods were nearly all saved. There was an insurance on the house and barn of $800, which will cover the loss. The fire was undoubtedly incendiary. A cow in the barn was burned.

SALE OF STEAMER SEA FLOWER. The steamer Sea Flower was sold in this city yesterday afternoon, by C. S. Pearl, auctioneer. She was bid in at $1,765 by Capt. Wm. Flowers for John H. Morris of Portland. The steamer was built in 1876, at a cost, it was stated, of $8,000, and was owned by the Bangor & Northport Steamboat Company. Terms of sale $1,000 cash and balance in three months. The steamer will be taken to Portland.

BOY DROWNED. A boy named Frank Bassick, aged 17 years, was drowned in Stockton last Monday, and Tuesday his body was found a few rods from the shore. It is supposed that while mooring his boat he stepped on the rail of a little skiff, and slipped or fell overboard; he was probably injured in his fall so that he was unable to save himself from drowning. Deceased was a son of Wm. Bassick of Stockton, and nephew of E. C. Bassick, the well known Colorado miner.

SUICIDE IN BOSTON. Boston papers report that Mr. Walter McIntire committed suicide by shooting himself at the residence of his uncle, Mr. James Bennett, in Lexington, Mass., this morning. Deceased was the son of Peter McIntire, 196 Commercial street, who resides at 18 East Brookline street. The young man went to Lexington on the 7.45 train last evening, and appeared in excellent spirits. The unfortunate young man has been under the doctor's care for quite a number of days, unable to attend to business, and has at times been partially insane, but he has never intimated suicide. He was 32 years of age and unmarried. The McIntire family have connections in this city who will learn with sorrow of the above sad event.

NEARLY A SERIOUS ACCIDENT. Workmen have recently been laying a water service pipe on French street. The recent rains have softened the loose earth covering the pipe, and yesterday, as a gentleman was driving a pair of horses through that street, one of the animals sank into the deceptive surface and thrown down, sustaining severe bruises about the knees. It seemed a wonder that the animal's legs were not broken. So many accidents have happened in this city from similar causes, it would seem that a due regard for public safety should suggest a better protection. Our reporter observed a dangerous hole near one of the wharves yesterday, and a stick standing upright in the middle was the only danger signal. It struck our reporter that it would make little difference whether a horse in the dark fell into the hole and broke his legs or became impaled upon the stick.

RUNNING A TRAIN WITHOUT STEAM. Yesterday afternoon, as the Maine Central train was on its way to this city, when near Hermon Centre, a stop-cock flew out, letting out all the water in the boiler. The engineer, seeing that he had steam enough to carry the train as far as the Odlin road, about three miles from the city, and the rest of the distance being a down grade, did not stop the engine, but determined to run into the depot at Bangor, if possible. Putting on what steam he had and raking down the fires, the engineer sped the train along. The Odlin road was passed, and with a shout of triumph the engineer saw the train strike the down grade. With just steam enough left to sound a faint whistle, the locomotive, with its long train of cars, entered the depot in this city, out of breath, but on time. It was considered a big feather in the cap of the engineer, as by his thoughtfulness and skill a serious delay to the train and annoyance to the passengers was avoided.

A CURIOUS CASE. Last August Captain William Carter of the schooner William Stevens, was taken violently ill in this city and a physician discovered an induration in the abdomen which has troubled him ever since. In January he passed three weeks at the Maine General Hospital where the bunch was reduced, a physician pronouncing the trouble inflammatory and not malignant. Some physicians had considered that a tumor was the cause of the trouble. On Sunday last the mystery was explained when a fish bone seven-eighths of an inch long came out of the bunch.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Dramatic Readings at Music Hall.

The entertainment at Music Hall last evening, given for the benefit of the Universalist Church, was a very enjoyable occasion. A fine audience was present, though perhaps not as large as the entertainment merited. The exercises consisted of dramatic readings by Mr. Edw. R. Kingsbury, singing by Miss Cook, and a piano solo by Miss May Cutter. Mr. Kingsbury is too well known in our city as a fine elocutionist and dramatic reader to need words of praise from us. His renditions last evening were rewarded with repeated encores. His dramatic ability was more fully brought out in "A New Year's Dream," especially written for him. His reading of "The Face Against the Pane" was most pathetic, while his powers of mimicry found play in "Jimmy Butler and the Owl." Miss Cook, the popular soprano, favored the audience with two selections, trilling the notes of "The Nightingale" in a most artistic manner. Her song "Where is Heaven" was most delightfully rendered. Miss May Cutter played a piano solo with her accustomed skill and power. Both Miss Cook and Miss Cutter received the plaudits of the audience, and were heartily encored. The following is the programme as rendered:

Reading—Guinevere .... Tennyson.
Piano Solo—(selected.)
Miss May Cutter.
Reading—Mr. Perkins at the Dentist's ..... Bailey.
Song—The Nightingale .... Adams.
Miss Cook.
Readings { The Face Against the Pane .... Aldrich
A New Year's Dream (specially written for Mr. Kingsbury) .. Barnard
Song—Where is Heaven .... Marti.
Miss Cook.
Reading—Jimmy Butler and the Owl, (by request) .... Anon.

Olivette To-Night.

The Boston English Opera Company will arrive by Pullman train this morning from Portland, where they played last night. The advance sale in Portland was enormous, nearly one thousand tickets being sold before the company arrived. This evening in Norombega "Olivette," the most popular comic opera of the day, will be rendered for the first time in this city. The opera has been given by this company in Boston for five consecutive weeks, so that a very smooth rendition may be expected. The sale of seats indicate a very fine house, though good seats may yet be obtained. Next Monday evening the company open a week's engagement in Mechanic's Institute, St. John, producing "Olivette," "Pirates of Penzance" and "Chimes of Normandy." "Olivette" will receive a second representation in Norombega to-morrow evening.

The sale of seats for Maggie Mitchell will commence Monday morning.

Suicide at Orrington.

Thomas B. Rogers was a well-to-do farmer, living in Orrington. Wednesday forenoon, about eleven o'clock a son of Mr. Rogers, aged about 23 years, who has been living with his father for some months past, first observed that the old gentleman was not at home. It was then thought that he had gone to the house of some neighbor, but as night came on and the father had not returned, the young man became alarmed. Procuring the assistance of some of the neighbors, the young man took a lantern, and a search was made until eleven o'clock that night. Early yesterday morning, young Rogers went to the house of Mr. W. M. Baker, some two miles distant, when with the assistance of the latter gentleman, the neighbors were aroused and a thorough search instituted. At about half-past eight the same morning the people were horrified to find the lifeless body of Mr. Rogers suspended from the limb of a tree in a wood lot about 150 rods from his house. When discovered his hat was upon his head and his feet were barely free from the ground. The leaves at his feet were undisturbed, showing that he had died without a struggle. Mr. Rogers was about sixty years of age. Three sons and a daughter survive him. The deceased is spoken of as having been a man of good habits and upright in his dealings, but that he has not been altogether happy in his domestic relations. Some two years ago he had serious trouble with his head, and it is thought he had become partially deranged, as no other cause can be assigned for the act of self-destruction.

EAST MAINE METHODIST CONFERENCE.

A Two Days' Session at Belfast.

FIRST DAY.

[Special Correspondence to the Whig & Courier.]

The Conference met at Belfast, Wednesday, at 9 o'clock, but the presiding Bishop Harris, not having arrived, Rev. R. Day preached the semi-centennial sermon, which he had been appointed to preach in the afternoon.

The sermon was full of reminiscences of the fathers and was listened to with great interest.

AFTERNOON.

The Conference met at two o'clock, Bishop Harris in the Chair. The sacrament of the Lord's Supper was celebrated; a large number both of laymen and ministers participated.

The roll was then called by the Secretary, Rev. B. S. Arey, who was re-elected Secretary, and the Standing Committees were appointed.

The examination of character of the effective elders was then begun. Rev. W. W. Marsh, presiding elder, gave a report of Bangor District, indicating vigor and progress in the churches. The character of all the elders passed.

Rev. J. W. Day, presiding elder, read a report of Rockland district. In that district many church debts have been paid during the year.

Mr. Day retired from the office of presiding elder, having completed the full term, and Rev. R. Wentworth, in behalf of the ministers of the district, after a few appropriate words, presented him with a token of their respect and love.

Rev. L. D. Wardwell presiding elder, read a report of Bucksport district, showing a pleasant and prosperous condition of things.

A committee of fifteen was appointed to try the charges against Rev. John Morse, who was suspended from the ministry last summer.

Rev. Mr. Cunningham of the North India Conference was introduced. Rev. Mr. Eastman, of the Free Baptist Yearly Meeting, was introduced and presented the fraternal greetings of that body.

In the evening a large and enthusiastic temperance meeting was held, presided over by Rev. C. B. Dunn, and addressed by Revs. Messrs. Pratt, Axtell, Southard, the venerable John Allen, and L. L. Hanscom.

SECOND DAY.

The Conference reassembled Thursday. After reading the journal Bishop Harris announced the committee for the trial of Rev. J. Morse.

The examination of candidates for the ministry in the studies prescribed was reported by the committee. James S. Allen, John Tinling, Monson H. Smith, Emory A. Glidden, Frank D. Handy, Isaac W. Wharff, Amos W. C. Anderson, W. B. Holt, Frank J. Maley, and Frank H. Osgood, having passed the examinations satisfactorily, were called to the communion rail, and after being addressed and questioned by the Bishop, were elected deacons and to memberseip in the conference.

The Bishop's address to the candidates placed great emphasis on the importance of a converted ministry.

In proposing the questions prescribed by the discipline, he referred to the fact that he had known an eminent minister who, because he had become saturated with tobacco, was sent from the room of a dying lady, where he had gone to administer the holy communion, because she could not endure the odor exhaled from his breath and person.

Wilbur F. Chase and James Biram were elected to elders' orders.

Geo. W. Hudson, having passed the four years' course of study, and being already an elder, was passed into the class of effective elders.

The Conference in the afternoon was devoted to a missionary sermon by Rev. N. G. Axtell.

In the evening the Church Extension Society anniversary was celebrated. Among the visitors present were Rev. H. W. Bolton, fraternal, and Rev. Mr. Sargent, Congregational, and F. W. Ryder, Baptist, delegates. A.

THE BATES COLLEGE NINE. The members of Bates Base Ball Club are as follows: J. H. Parsons, captain; F. H. Wilber, catcher; C. P. Sanborn, 1st base; H. E. Foss, 2d base; Roberts, 3d base; Hatch, right field; Tinkham, left field; Ricker, centre field; Merrill, short stop; Whitemarsh, 10th man; Mariner, scorer; Roberts, manager. The Bates nine played a game yesterday afternoon, with the High School nine of this city, on the Forest Avenue grounds. The superiority of the Bates club was previously acknowledged by the High School boys and the contest yesterday was simply a practice game for the Bates nine which are to play the State College nine at Orono, to-day and again to-morrow. The High School nine played quite as well as could be expected considering the lack of proper training. The Bates Club is said to be a well trained organization, and the State College boys will need to be wide awake.

A New Method of Ornamenting Wood.

[From the Boston Journal.]

Mr. S. K. Devereux of Castine, Me., has been exhibiting during the week samples of work produced by a new invention of his own, which he calls "Koptography," or the art of impressing designs by indentation upon ornamental woods, and upon which he has obtained letters patent from Washington, under the provisions of the art law. By this method, ornamental designs may be produced upon wood by deep indentations, caused by striking into the material with sufficient force to cut the fibre by means of tools which the inventor has designed especially for the purpose, and which produce a more durable impression than any previous systems which have confirmed themselves to more indentations. The advantages of this system are obvious; the designs, being deeply sunken below the surface, are not to be disturbed by any means which would impair superficial ornamentation, and will last as long as the wood itself. Various tools are employed to produce these depressions, some working in masses and others in detail, some in lines and others in the simulation of textures, these to produce set decorative forms and those for free and individual treatment, according to the wish of the designer. Some of the samples of work which Mr. Devereux has himself turned out show that this new art has great resources. All sorts of ornamental designs are produced, with an unusual degree of solidity and adherence to perspective and artistic principles. Vases of flowers, vines, birds, illuminated business signs, etc., show the capabilities of the art for cabinet and decorative work, and indicate that individual talent may be applied to the plan and details of the method to any degree. The designs are upon black walnut and other ornamental woods, and may be filled in with gold leaf or colors, according to preference. By this means fine shading is produced, giving effects which are out of the reach of ordinary designs upon wood. By the new method, also, the cost of such work will be vastly decreased, putting into the hands of persons of small means furniture, etc., with the best designs of decoration. There is nothing mechanical in the process except that work is lessened by the tools which Mr. Devereux has invented, for the designs may be drawn and cut according to personal taste and preference. A sample of Mr. Devereux's work may be seen in the Journal counting-room. The inventor intends forming a company soon for the development and extension of his new system.

OFFICIAL HORSEFLESH.

THE STYLES OF ANIMALS USED BY THE STATESMEN AT WASHINGTON.

President Garfield loves a good horse dearly. He is an excellent rider. He has not, as yet, made any changes in the Presidential stable, except to add a saddle horse. The stables still contain the four coach horses which were used by Mr. Hayes, and which were left by him. They will, however, be sent to Fremont during next fall. The Presidential coachman blandly says they are "worn out." Mr. Hayes never cared much for horses; not near as much as Mrs. Hayes did. So long as the carriage was ready when called for, he did not trouble himself. Grant, on the contrary, was passionately fond of a good horse, and was not afraid to spend money for one. He took them away or gave them away when he left. The horses in the Presidential stable are not remarkable for their speed, but he President is quietly looking for a fine span of horses, a pair that will do credit to their position. Neither the President nor his boys care much for carriage driving, and leave that to Mrs. Garfield and the ladies. Mrs. Garfield uses the carriage a good deal and generally goes shopping in the two-horse closed carriage which Mrs. Hayes used. The President goes out horseback riding every evening after office hours, and generally without company. His private secretary, Mr. Brown, does not go horseback riding, although he has four government horses in the stable for his own use. His carriages are also kept here. Dr. Durham cow has a large, roomy stall in the stable, and supplies the White House with milk.

VICE PRESIDENT ARTHUR

is also partial to a fast trotter, and rides every day behind a dappled gray Kentucky mare. The distance between his house on Fourteenth street and the Capitol, which is about a mile and a half, is passed in exactly ten minutes.

ALL THE CABINET OFFICERS

of the last administration had establishments, especially Secretary Evarts, who took his with him to New York. Attorney General MacVeagh has a fine stable, in which he keeps three horses and an English brougham and a cart.

Secretary Hunt owns a pair of browns, both good steppers. He goes out riding a great deal.

THE FOREIGN MINISTERS

resident here all like to drive well, and may be frequently seen out on the road. Sir Edward Thornton keeps the largest establishment, having in his stable five handsome horses, two of which are often used as saddle horses. He keeps a carriage and brougham, an English landau, and a wagonette. This latter is a light, pretty vehicle, and will carry ten or twelve persons.

The Spanish Minister, Senor Don Vigo, drives a spirited pair of browns, mates in color and size.

The Japanese Minister goes out in fine style. He owns his turnout, which consists of a handsome large bay team, with gold-mounted harness and an English landau.

The Chinese Minister also has a fine establishment.

M. Outrey, the French Minister, has his own private stable. He drives a handsome pair of bays to a landau, and keeps a gray for his coupe.

The Mexican Minister owns two roan horses and a landau, in which he drives out.

The grave and sedate judges of the Supreme Court are also partial to riding, and nearly all them have their private stables. Chief Justices Waite keeps a bay team, and alternates, when driving, between a landau and a family carriage. Justice Strong owns a handsome team of browns and a Brewster landau. Justice Swayne and Justice Bradley both own bay teams and landaus. Justices Field and Miller both have splendid teams. Judge James, of the District Court, drives a landau.

THE SENATORS.

Senator Don Cameron owns a team of dark bays, an unusually handsome pair.

Mrs. Senator Miller goes out shopping in a pretty little coupelette, which is the envy of those less fortunate.

Senators Van Wyck and Grover both have fine teams and landaus.

Senator Johnston, of Virginia, is also partial to a landau.

Senator Conkling owns a magnificent saddle horse and buggy, and may be seen often riding out in the afternoon on horseback.

Senators Morrill and Bayard own the bay teams in which they take their afternoon airing, while Senator Edmunds not only owns a team and landau, but has two saddle horses beside.

Senator Pendleton has a stable stocked with four horses—two bays and two blacks.

Senator Jones, of Colorado, has four horses, which he drives to a landau, or a brougham, or a T cart.

Senator Plumb has a pair of big black coach horses which he drives to a coupe.

THE CONGRESSMEN.

Many of the Congressmen have splendid establishments, and that of the Hon. Walter A. Wood is one of the finest in the city. He owns a dog cart to which he drives a pair of handsome bays in tandem. The gold-mounted harness for this team cost $600 alone. He has also an English landau, with a large bay team. These horses are also arrayed in a gold-mounted harness which cost $650.

The Hon. Levi P. Morton owns no less than six horses, of various colors. His carriages consist of an English landau, a brougham, a vis a vis, and a wagonette. He drives out a great deal, especially over the country roads, being a great lover of free air.

Congressman Robeson keeps four horses, a victoria, and two landaus, one for day use and one for night.

Archie Bliss drives a pair of black mares, and does not allow anybody to pass him on the road.

General Sherman drives out a great deal, but hires his landau.

Admiral Porter has a fine bay team, and rides out in a clarence or a coupe rockaway.

FELLOWS' SYRUP

Its first apparent effect is to increase the appetite. It assists digestion, and causes the food to assimilate properly—thus the system is nourished If also, by its tonic action on the digestive organs, induces more copious and regular evacuations. The rapidity with which patients take on flesh while under the influence of the Syrup, of itself indicates that no other preparation can be better adapted to help and nourish the constitution, and hence be more efficacious in all depression of spirits, shaking or trembling of the hands or body, cough, shortness of breath, or consumptive habit The nerves and muscles become strengthened, and the blood purified.

The various kinds of waste or decay that affect the human body, though attended each with some symptom not common with the rest, agree very much in this, that the basis in all is nearly the same. It is generally conceded, that the majority of diseases are accompanied by faulty digestion, and such being the case, we must, in order to cure such diseases, cause the organs of digestion to perform their proper functions No remedy has before been discovered which has so beneficial an influence on those organs as Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites
